INTROSPECTIVE ESSAYS.

By GRACE A. MURRAY.

Extract from Preface. These little essays contain a mingling of idealism and pessimism, of faith and unfaith; but in the latter case there is no mocking spirit. For hypocrisy, under the guise of religion, so often the means of warping and embittering sensitive natures, only contempt is possible; but for the sincere beliefs of all religions, the deepest respect should be shown. There would be less strife and more charity could Christian people but see that the spirit of Christianity does not consist in dogma alone, and that the feelings of others on the great subject of religion may be as sacred and as worthy as their own.

In royal 16mo., bound in parchment, price 1s. 6d.

ANGELS.

By AGNES CECIL FISHER.

Author of "A Short and Simple Life of St. Paul," "Simple Instructions on the Prayer-Book," etc.

Extract from Preface. Having found in my dealing with children, and even with those of maturer age, how little is known about the Heavenly Host, I have endeavoured in a short and simple booklet, Angels, to show how closely they are connected with our daily lives, and that they are ever at our side to help us at all times.

Should my small effort enable others to realize this thought, and to find comfort in it, I shall be truly thankful, and hope it may be found both instructive and helpful.

The Divine Idea of Human Dress.

BY

“ENΔΥΜΑ ΚΡΙΤΙΚΟΣ.”

THIS Book is an earnest endeavour to interpret and illustrate the wonderful teachings of the Sacred Writings concerning Human Dress.

The Thoughts of God and the thoughts of men regarding it are altogether different. The Former intended that every human being should be visibly clothed with a living moral garment, put on from within; the latter, universally, put on material garments from without.

That these garments are not in harmony with the Divine Law of Dress it is the aim of the Author to show.

The Author has written a most admirable book, and developed his theme in a very original and yet in an arresting and thoroughly practical way. . . . It is expanded with great ingenuity, and with a wealth of Illustration at once captivating, stimulating, and satisfying.”—Western Morning News.
