GENERAL.

- "NOR'ARD OF THE DOGGER." By E. J. Mather. (Simpkin Marshall and Co., Ltd. 1s. net.) A new edition (forty-second thousand) of a truly remarkable book, which tells of the early work of the Mission to Deep-Sea Fishermen, of which the author was practically the founder. The vivid picture it gives of life in the North Sea is of more than usual interest just now. The Bishop of Durham, in a Preface of singular warmth and beauty, recalls the immense success of the book when it was first issued in the eighties, and expresses the hope that the second life of this book, so homely, so great, may be even more fruitful than the first. We have pleasure in commending a volume which abounds in living interest, and is a great stimulus to faith and prayer.
- FIFTEEN CHAPTERS OF AUTOBIOGRAPHY. By the Right Hon. W. E. Russell; and FIFTEEN THOUSAND MILES IN A KETCH. By Captain Raymond du Baty—two volumes in Nelson's Shilling Library. THE VELVET GLOVE. By H. Seton Merriman; and THE LUCK OF THE VAILS. By E. F. Benson—two volumes in Nelson's Sevenpenny Series.
- ROMANISM IN THE LIGHT OF HISTORY. By Rudolph H. McKim, D.D. (E. Putnam's Sons. 5s. net.) A frank examination of Leo XIII.'s "Encyclical on Reunion," together with other essays on the Roman controversy.

- OUR WONDERFUL BIBLE. By Gertrude Hollis. (S.P.C.K. 2s. net.) Presents a number of facts about the Bible in a fascinating way, but we are not quite with the writer in her views on Inspiration. With this we may join a companion volume, OUR WONDERFUL CATHEDRALS, by Gertrude Hollis (S.P.C.K. 2s. net), which is most interesting throughout. The illustrations in both books are excellent.
- OUR EMPIRE. (S.P.C.K. 2s. 6d. net.) GOLDEN SUNBEAMS. (S.P.C.K. 1s. 4d.) Annual volumes of two well-known monthlies.
